NATIONAL THREATENED SPECIES DAY

National Threatened Species Day is held on 7 September each year to encourage the community to help conserve Australia's unique native fauna and flora. We can all take action to prevent further extinctions by restoring healthy numbers of endangered species and ecological communities in the wild.

HELP CELEBRATE THIS DAY AT TASMANIA ZOO

Saturday, 11th September.

Tasmania Zoo, the only fully accredited Zoo in Tasmania has the largest collection of vulnerable, threatened and Endangered Species on display, from the rare Critically Endangered Lion-tailed Macaque to our own Endangered Tasmanian Devil.

This year to celebrate Tasmania Zoo has discounted entry pricing, and numerous events to help spread the word for our animal friends. We have now lost over 90% of the wild population of Tasmanian Devils, so come along and see what Tasmania Zoo is doing to help save our Devils.

Tasmania Zoo would like to thank yourself and every sponsor that has made this day possible. I formally invite yourself and every sponsor to come up and have a look around on this day, there will be a sponsors evening tea held between 2:45 and 3:30, that has been wonderfully donated by Banjo's Bakeries.

I again thank you for your generosity. *NOTE sponsors receive free entry
*Bring a copy of this and your business id for entry*
Raffle drawn at 3:00pm on the day.

So don't miss Tasmania Zoo's Threatened Species Day.....

You will have a Devil of a Time
